About

02

Design. Writing. Maintaining unruly eyebrows.

The first two have become my career. The third is mostly a public service.

I graduated from the University of Nebraska–Lincoln in 2025 with a bachelor's in Advertising & Public Relations and a minor in English. During that time, I designed fundraising campaigns for the University of Nebraska Foundation, led the creative direction of the National Student Advertising Competition team, and spent three years running The Dailyer Nebraskan, UNL's satirical newspaper.

I like projects that combine strategy with craft. Good design should communicate clearly, reward curiosity, and occasionally make people smile.

Welcome to my portfolio.

ONLY in NEBRASKA
A Campaign for Our University's Future

Gifts made during the foundation's fiscal year, which runs July 1, 2022 through June 30, 2023, make an impact every single day. Your gift also makes you part of Only in Nebraska: A Campaign for Our University's Future, a historic initiative to engage 150,000 unique donors to build the future Nebraska needs right now.

Big things are happening at the University of Nebraska—Lincoln. We are so proud of our exceptional education, world-leading research, innovation and development, and statewide engagement with the people of Nebraska, to name a few. These, along with so much more, are only possible because of amazing donors like you.

What's possible right here in Nebraska? Only Everything.

Founded in 1869 and chartered as the state's first medical college in 1881, UNMC became part of the University of Nebraska in 1902. Today, our education programs train more health care professionals than any other institution in the state. Our scientists and clinicians are at the leading edge of discovering new medical breakthroughs and transforming lives across the state and around the world. None of that is possible without you. Thank you for supporting this lifesaving work.

Dance has been a part of University of Nebraska–Lincoln student Maddie Krueger's life since she was three years old. Nearly two decades later, Krueger is a proud member of the dance program in the Hixson-Lied College of Fine and Performing Arts, where she's majoring in dance. Krueger is also pursuing a degree in elementary education.

Alongside her elementary education major, being a member of the dance program has allowed Krueger to pursue her passion for dance in a supportive and welcoming environment filled with people who share some of the same passion as she does. "The UNL dance program has helped me grow as a person and as a dancer," Krueger explained. "I've developed great friendships through the program."

For students like Whitney Schwisow at the University of Nebraska–Lincoln, academics go hand in hand with extracurricular activities. Schwisow, a senior majoring in actuarial science, is an active member of the UNL Fast Pitch Softball Club, a thriving part of the university's athletic culture.

Schwisow's journey to the university was guided by both academic and financial considerations. "Nebraska has one of the top actuarial science programs in the country," Schwisow explained. "Scholarships made it a lot more affordable than any other options."

For out-of-state University of Nebraska–Lincoln students Evan Detina and Nathan Weber, their college experience includes more than academics. Detina and Weber are active members of the UNL Men's Ice Hockey Club, a student-run Division III team playing in both the Mid-American Collegiate Hockey Association and nationally under the American Collegiate Hockey Association.

Weber, a junior accounting and finance student, spoke about his first impressions of the University of Nebraska, "I

▲ LIAM SPIEKER AGING HERBIE 2024

Liam Spieker is an advertising and public relations major aiming to graduate in 2025. This fall, Spieker will be on his third stint as editor-in-chief for The Daily Nebraska, the satirical student-run newspaper on campus which publishes six times a year. He describes himself as a "Midwestern creative, passionate about visual storytelling and humor on the side." Thus his creation of Herbie's mid-life crisis, a version of which originally appeared last fall in Volume 18, Issue 1 of The Daily Nebraska.
